Many Vacancies on Tickets Are Filled

On the Last Day

Warren I. Lee Consents to Make Race for Assembly;

Charles A. Griffiths Withdraws in the Eleventh

Warren I. Lee, former counsel to the Public Service Commission, who served five terms in the Assembly, yesterday assented to the request of the Brooklyn Republicans of the 21st Assembly District and took the place on the primary ticket made vacant by the withdrawal of Assemblyman Wilfred L. Youker.

In the place of Anthony P. Ladden, Republican, in the 34th Municipal District, Manhattan, Charles H. Hayes was substituted.

In the 18th Aldermanic District, Manhattan, in place of Edwin J. Gilmore, deceased, the name of John Knoesel, Democrat, was substituted.

Charles A. Griffiths, former Republican leader of the 11th Assembly District, Manhattan, withdrew from the four-cornered contest for the Republican nomination for justice of the 8th Municipal Court District.

This leaves Abraham Ellenbogen, who formerly represented the 7th Assembly District at Albany, Alexander U. Zincke, who has the endorsement of the 8th Assembly District, and Mark Phillips, who is making an independent campaign in the field.

The contest is one of the hottest being waged in the Republican primaries this year. The district is Republican by a comfortable margin, and all three men have a considerable following.

The Board of Elections eliminated John J. Monahan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Assemblyman in the 3d District, in Brooklyn. This leaves Assemblyman Frank J. Taylor, who has the organization behind him, unopposed. Monahan's petitions were adjudged defective.

Justice Crosey, sitting in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, ruled adversely on two applications. One was that of Senator Kenneth C. Sutherland of the Coney Island and Bath Beach District who sought a mandamus to compel the Board of Elections to place his name on the ballot for state committee member from the 16th Assembly District. The court held that the office, vacant by the death of John J. Ryan, could be filled only by appointment by the state committee.

The other was the application of former State Senator Reuben L. Gledhill, Republican leader in the 6th Assembly District, to compel the Board of Elections to accept his petition for the nomination for alderman, which became vacant with the death of Alderman John Diemer.

Yesterday was the last day to fill vacancies after elections.

Mr. Berseneff, representing more than 1,000,000 Siberian peasant proprietors, came to New York to arrange for the resumption of commercial relations between this country and Siberia. In his appeal he emphasized the necessity of giving Admiral Kolchak moral and material assistance to prevent the further spread of Bolshevism.

Tribune Fresh Air Fund

Children at Sea Gate Make Quick Response to Appeal for Others Less Fortunate Who Also Would Enjoy Vacation in Country

The friends of The Tribune's little "Fresh Air" are still at work and producing results. Results which ultimately will be expressed in pounds of flesh and blood and hundreds of happy hours for those little "Fresh Airs."

Some of the friends who have been working for the children are themselves children.

On Sunday, August 3, an appeal for help for the Fresh Air Fund was made in the Children's Tribune under the caption, "Give Some Other Child a Bite of Your Vacation."

"You send a $7 bill and we turn it into a whole week in the country for some child who needs it," said the appeal, which went up with the suggestion, "Talk to your mother and father about it and send that $7 bill or a piece of it."

Appeal Is Answered
Some children who are spending vacations at the Whittier Inn, Sea Gate, N. Y., and who apparently believe in the Children's Tribune, did talk to their elders about the matter. Especially they went into conference with Alfred L. C. Lottimer, an interior decorator of New York, and Mary Graham Böhner, a writer of children's stories, who also find the Whittier Inn a pleasant summer home.

The outcome was that in a few days the inn, the club and the street corners of Sea Gate were decked with copies of Brigg's Fresh Air cartoon, "When a Feller Needs a Friend," with a notice appended that on the evening of August 12 the children of Whittier would entertain with a series of tableaux vivants, tickets 25 cents, the proceeds to be sent to The Tribune Fresh Air Fund to buy vacations for needy children of New York City.

The children worked hard and that their parents and friends fell in with the idea is proved by the contribution of $203.20, which came to the fund through The Children's Tribune yesterday.

Every Cent for Children
It will make possible vacations for twenty-nine boys and girls, which is, as some of the twenty-nine would phrase it, "some bite" of fresh air and happiness for those "other" children. And the best part of it is that the vacations are to be just twice as long as the Whittier Inn children expect, for the appeal to which they responded told only half the truth when it said that a $7 bill would be turned into "a whole week in the country." The Tribune Fund can and does turn $7 it receives into a whole fortnight in the country for some child of the tenements.

Mary Graham Böhner was general manager of the event. Mr. Lottimer devoted the scene effects and looked after artistic details generally. Mrs. Conington, Mrs. Treat, Mrs. Hodupp and Mrs. Boyd assisted behind the scenes. Mrs. Charles Perkins attended to business arrangements and directed the sale of tickets by the children, and Mrs. Crawford Kent directed the ushering, which was done by ten prominent young women of Sea Gate.
